PROF. JAGGAR AT VESUVIUS.

Obtains Interesting Photographs and Specimens at Scene of Recent Disaster.

On the 7th of April Prof. Jaggar was occupied with his duties as teacher of Geology at Harvard University and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. News came by wire that Mount Vesuvius had been in active eruption since the fourth of April. On the 8th it appeared that the eruption was one of those extraordinary ones which take place at Naples about once in thirty-five years. Disaster and loss of life were reported. It seemed desirable to gather information at the center of the disturbance and to collect specimens. This was especially needed by way of comparison with the phenomena which Prof. Jaggar had studied in Martinique and St. Vincent in 1902. Prof. Jaggar sailed on the "Lorraine" April 12th, and arrived at Paris on the 20th, where he was greeted with the heartrending news of the San Francisco disaster. He proceeded to Naples by way of Marseilles, Nice, Pisa, and Rome, arriving on April 23rd. On April 24th, in company with Dr. Tempest Anderson and two other members of the Alpine Club, he went to the volcano and the party remained for several days on the high slopes of the mountain. They lodged at Cook's Hermitage Hotel adjoining the Royal Observatory, where Dr. Matteuci cordially greeted them.

On Wednesday, April 25th, the party climbed to the edge of the crater, and had the good fortune to obtain photographs and a partial view of the interior of the new cauldron. On the day preceding, Dr. Matteuci, accompanied by Mr. Perret, an American who is honorary assistant at the station, had made an ascent, and to them justly belongs the honor of being the first to reach the edge of the crater and to measure the loss of height which the mountain has suffered. On the 26th Prof. Jaggar, in company with Mr. John Brigg, climbed Monte Somma, the outer ridge of Vesuvius. There a still better view of the new cone and crater was had, and it was possible to gain a comprehensive view of the scene of ruin and desolation at Ottajano and San Giuseppe northeast of the volcano. On the 27th collections were made of fallen lapilli and ash between the Observatory and Naples. On the 29th the lava streams south of the cone were studied, and on the 30th an expedition was made to Pozzuoli and Baia. On May 2 Prof. Jaggar sailed from Naples on the "Canopic."

BASKETBALL TEAM MEETS.

The Basketball Team held a meeting in 33 Rogers yesterday for the purpose of electing officers for the coming season. C. R. Lamont, '07, was elected captain, and C. W. Whitmore, '08, manager.

RESULTS ARE DOUBTFUL.

Five Colleges Seem Almost Equal, and Close Scores are Expected.

The New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association, for the first time in the Association's history, comes to Boston for its annual championship track and field meet, and tomorrow afternoon on Tech Field the pick of all the college athletes of New England, barring only Harvard and Yale, will participate for the individual medals and for the championship cup that goes to the college scoring the greatest number of points in the meet.

The contest has narrowed down to Amherst, Brown, Dartmouth, Technology and Williams. On form shown throughout the year these teams are about evenly matched, though Amherst and Dartmouth seem to have slightly stronger teams. Dartmouth will be in an entirely different class than when it was beaten in the dual meet with Harvard. Swazey and Jordan, who won first and second places in both dashes last year, are again entered, while the men entered in the distance runs are expected to win points. Dartmouth is weak in the field events, excepting the pole vault, and will hardly score.

The Amherst athletes have for the past four years carried off team honors, but now, however, Amherst finds herself in far less favorable circumstances. Her captain has been down with diphtheria; others of her star athletes are back in their studies, and altogether Amherst is, at best, slightly disorganized. Most of her points will come from the dashes, hurdles and field events.

Brown, which finished third a year ago, many points back of Amherst and Dartmouth, is generally considered stronger this year, and may be the dark horse of the meet. Most of its strength will be mustered in the distance runs, which Captain Wright is certain to win. Brown supporters claim that the Providence College has a well-balanced team and are backing it for at least third place again.

Although Williams won the dual meet from Tech last Saturday, it failed to show the team of past years, and will hardly be strong enough to put up even the fight it has in past years. Although Technology was defeated last Saturday, the home team was shown to be easily one of the best balanced of those that will compete tomorrow. A comparison of results made last Saturday with those made by other colleges this year, shows that Tech ought to land first in at least three events and enough seconds and thirds to make up a winning score.

The meet will not be a walk away for any of the college teams and will be one of the closest and hardest fought ever held by the Association. The track is in excellent condition, and, if there is no wind, records ought to be broken.

COMPETITIVE DRILL.

Freshman Battalion to Hold Annual Event at South Armory Tonight.

The annual competitive drill of the Freshman battalion will be held at South Armory tonight at 7.30. The idea of holding the competition at night instead of on a Wednesday afternoon is new this year, and it is hoped that the result will be more wide-spread interest and a larger attendance than ever before. As formerly, the Institute will give a dinner to the winning company, and to stimulate rivalry in the individual drill, Major Wheeler has provided a handsome medal for the winner.

The exercises will commence promptly at 7.30 with the appearance on the floor of Company C. The drill will consist of a series of exercises in the manual of arms, and of various company and platoon movements. The other companies will follow in order determined by lot. The judges are A. Macomber, '07, B. Nichols, '07, and H. S. Wonson, '07.

The same judges will award the decision in the individual competitive drill, which is to follow the company drill. So general was the interest shown in this event, that it was found necessary to limit the number of men entering; hence, eight men have been picked from each company by the captains, and these will make up the first squad competing.

The individual drill will be followed by a battalion drill, during which the battalion will be reviewed by Prof. Merrill. The exercises will conclude with dress parade, the announcement of the decisions of the judges and the awarding of prizes, and the presentation of commissions and warrants to the officers and non-commissioned officers of the battalion.

TECHNIQUE '08 OFFERS PRIZES.

The meeting of the 1908 Technique Board Thursday evening was taken up largely with a discussion of the various prizes to be offered for literary and artistic contributions. It was finally decided to give $10 for the best cover design turned in; $10 for the best drawing or set of drawings; $5 for the five best grinds and quotations; $5 for the best short, humorous contribution, either prose or poetry; and $5 each to the authors of the four class histories accepted. The next meeting of the Board will be held in 26 Rogers Wednesday afternoon at 5 P.M.

The University of Minnesota and Carlisle Indian School football teams are to play at Minneapolis, Minn., November 17. Minnesota is the heaviest and slowest playing team in the middle West, and its work against the fast and light Indians will be closely watched by all lovers of the game.

The Inter-Collegiate Meet Tomorrow.

Tomorrow at Tech Field the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association will hold its annual meet. Inasmuch as this is the first time that the meet has ever been held on college grounds, Tech men should consider it their duty to see that everything runs off in a creditable manner, and their privilege to give the visiting college teams as warm a welcome as possible. The support given to our track team last Saturday in the Dual meet was good, and tomorrow it should be better. The team is going to do its best, and with a week's steady training since it was tried out, some interesting events should be looked for. This is the time of all others in the year when every Tech man should be out cheering, since the colleges form their estimate of a technical school largely from the amount of spirit and enthusiasm in its students.

University of Chicago and Cornell University have arranged a football game to be played at Marshall Field, Chicago, next fall. It will be the first time that an eastern university has played in Chicago since 1899, and will do much to settle the disputed superiority of eastern and western football. In the fall of 1899 Chicago defeated the Cornell team at Chicago, 17 to 6.

NOTICES.

Technique 1908.—There will be a meeting of the 1908 Technique Board in 26 Rogers Wednesday, May 23, at 5 o'clock.

Architectural Society.—The Architectural Society will hold its annual banquet next Saturday at 7 P.M. at the American House.

Banjo Club.—There will be a rehearsal of the Banjo Club in 33 Rogers this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Every member is urged to be present.

1908 Baseball.—A picture of the 1908 Baseball Team will be taken at Notman's Studio on Boylston Street Monday at 1 P.M. All members should be present with uniforms.

Y. M. C A. HOLDS MEETING.

The Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting yesterday at 1.30 P.M. in the Parish Hall of Trinity Church. To the great disappointment of every one present Dr. Henson, who had promised to speak, was prevented from being present. In his absence Mr. Gates addressed the meeting and spoke of a trip to Europe which he made not long ago. He referred particularly to places and scenes in Rome and Greece which are dear to the heart of every Christian by reason of their Biblical associations, and gave a very vivid picture of an evening spent on Mars Hill overlooking the city of Athens.

NAVALS ENJOY THEMSELVES.

The Naval Architectural Society had a rousing good time at their dinner at the Burger Brau Wednesday evening. Refreshments were excellent and abundant, and every man present enjoyed himself thoroughly.

A regular program of speeches had been arranged, but good cheer was so prevalent, and capacity for story telling apparently so unlimited, that the regular program was soon lost sight of. The stories were followed by some enthusiastic singing. The pianist at first tried classical music, but all were so instilled with Tech spirit that it was not long before the well-known songs of the Institute rang out over Hayward Place.

LECTURES ON PHOTOGRAPHY.

On Tuesday afternoon Prof. Louis Derr gave an interesting lecture in 22 Walker on "Color Photography." He took up in detail several of the best known methods of color photography, explaining the technical and practical differences thoroughly. The lecture was profusely illustrated by beautiful lantern slides. Prof. Derr demonstrated the application of color photography to the making of three color prints by reproducing a landscape.

MINERS ELECT OFFICERS.

The Mining Engineering Society met in 2 Rogers Monday afternoon to elect officers for next term. The elections resulted as follows: President, J. S. Coupal, '07; Vice President and Treasurer, F. C. Jaccard, '07; Secretary, J. N. Maxwell, '08. The Executive Committee will consist of the President, Vice President and Secretary, and J. P. Chadwick, '07, and G. T. Bridgman, '08.

Columbia University has ordered A. E. Ward, the New York boat builder, to construct for its 'varsity crew a new eight-oared shell, to be used in the Poughkeepsie race during June. The shell is to be 58 feet in length, and will resemble in general model the beautiful craft which Ward built for Columbia last season. The new boat is to be finished June 1, or three days before the rowing squad leaves for the Hudson city.

The annual outdoor track and field meet of the South Atlantic Association of the Amateur Athletic Union will be at Bennings race track, Washington, D. C., June 9. It will be the first time that the meet has been at Washington, and the athletic clubs there are making elaborate preparations for the entertainment of athletes and patrons of sport.

UNDERWOOD'S Original
DEVILED HAM

When you strike off into the woods, see that in your pack basket or in the bow of your canoe you have a sufficient supply of Underwood's Original Deviled Ham. A small can and a couple of slices of bread, or, better still, cold toasted bread (toast should be buttered after it has become cold), make a satisfying and delightful lunch. In camp it is always indispensable, either for emergencies or the regular table.
It may be bought at any good grocer's, but be sure you see on the can THE LITTLE RED DEVIL. There is only ONE Deviled Ham—Underwood's Red Devil Brand. All others are imitations, but imitations in name only, as the goods commonly labeled and sold as potted or deviled ham, made as they are from the odds and ends of the packing house, are no more like Underwood's Original Ham than chalk is like cheese.
Our Book contains a lot of unique and practical receipts. We will send it FREE.

THE ONLY FIRST-CLASS UP-TOWN PRINTING OFFICE

For nearly two years efforts have been made to arrange for a dual track meet between the East and the West. This year will result in something definite as the colleges of each section have chosen committees with power to arrange for the meeting. If the meet is arranged, it will come at the close of the college year and the place will doubtless rotate between the East and the West. Philadelphia for the East and Chicago for the West have both splendid facilities for such a meet. Here the relative strength of the two sections could be tested, their only meeting now being at the Relay Carnival at Philadelphia.
